

ODYSSEY BOUND

PLACES YOU CAN GO!

CAREER SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE | SANTA FE | MAY 2011

Career Services Office

505-984-6066
Fax 505-984-6167
careerservices@sjscf.edu

Office Hours:

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.
or by appointment

Career Services Staff:

Margaret Odell,
Director
Barbara Lucero Sand,
Assistant to the Director
Terrance Manning,
Internship Coordinator

Disclaimer:

The St. John's College Career Services Office produces Odyssey Bound as a service to St. John's College students and community members for their career development and educational and life planning. Any jobs or other opportunities listed herein do not indicate an endorsement or recommendation from St. John's College or the Career Services Office.

ST JOHN'S College

ANNAPOLIS · SANTA FE

Job Announcements

Intermountain AmeriCorps is part of a national service movement striving to rebuild communities while broadening educational and life skills opportunities. Serving rural school districts and community agencies in North Central Washington State, the Intermountain AmeriCorps offers two different projects: The Service and Education Team and Reading Corps. Each project has its own special focus, but work together to seek creative ways to improve student learning and help communities meet the needs of students and families.

Positions are 10.5 months in length, Begins/Ends: September 1, 2011-July 15, 2012 with a wage of $1,124/month stipend; $5,550 education award, student loan forbearance, health insurance and childcare. For more information please visit: www.intermountainac.com

Playworks is proud to partner with AmeriCorps and is looking for program coordinators, known as 'coaches' who are passionate about education to work with elementary schools and facilitate healthy, inclusive play at recess and throughout the school day. Coming to Albuquerque this fall, the position is a full time, paid, benefited, entry-level position with an August 2011 start date. For more information please visit: www.Playworks.org/coach

Part-Time Socratic Teachers are being sought in Austin, TX. Michael Strong, SF'85, with several decades of alternative educational experience, is putting together a new innovative private school/home school educational center and needs educational coaches/mentors with content expertise in math, science, writing, intellectual inquiry, programming, the arts, and other forms of human development. The school will provide young people with opportunities for world-class development in content domains while also developing their ability to learn and act as mature, responsible, independent adults. All positions start in late August, part-time initially with the potential to become full-time. Pay is contingent on performance, not credentials. Demonstrated competence in areas of expertise is more important than credentials. For more information email Michael Strong at socraticpractice@yahoo.com

Thomas MacLaren School in Colorado Springs, CO is accepting applications for faculty in mathematics and science. This 6-12 grade public charter school emphasizes learning as a posture that is developed in the classroom through Socratic seminars and learning as doing. Teaching certification is not required. For a full description of the job announcement please visit: www.maclarenschool.org. Mary Faith Hall, the Head of School at MacLaren, is a 1997 graduate of the Santa Fe MALA GI program.

Graduate and Professional Schools

New York University offers a Master of Science program provided by the Heyman Center for Philanthropy and Fundraising. Begin or advance your career in Philanthropy with a Master of Science in Fundraising and Grantmaking. For more information visit: scps.nyu.edu/msfr

Saint Louis University School of Public Health Department of Health Management and Policy will expand educational opportunities for students and professionals beginning in the 2011 fall semester with the Master of Public Health and Certificate program in Emergency Management and Crisis Leadership, one of the only degrees of its kind in the country. For more information visit: <http://publichealth.slu.edu>

University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Mellon University offers the National Institutes of Health-funded Medical Scientist Training Program (MSTP). This program offers exceptionally talented individuals the opportunity to undertake a physician-scientist training program tailored to specific research interests. The primary program directive is to create future biomedical investigators by providing the highest quality of graduate medical training. For more information on fields of study visit: www.mdphd.pitt.edu

Teach and Study Abroad Programs

The 2012/13 US-UK Fulbright Award competition has recently opened. Fulbright has specific partnerships and awards with a variety of UK schools, including: Aberdeen University, Exeter University, Institute of Education, Lancaster Science and Technology, Manchester University and University of the Arts. The Fulbright competition is open to US citizens; apply via the Institute of International Education (IIE). Application deadline is October 17, 2011 but current students also need to submit their proposals to the Fellowship Committee in early September. For more

Volunteer Opportunities

The Santa Fe Public Library is in need of volunteers for June-July 2011.

Volunteers are needed to help with the Summer Reading Program. Duties include registering children for the Summer Reading Program, distributing prizes, preparing materials for distribution, and assisting with special programs and crafts. Must enjoy working with children. Hours vary, depending on program schedule; may include weekends. If interested, please contact the Children's Room at the library where you wish to volunteer.

Main Library

145 Washington Ave.
955-6783

La Farge Branch Library

1730 Llano St.
955-4863

Southside Branch Library,

6599 Jaguar Dr.
955-2828

information visit: <http://www.fulbright.co.uk/fulbright-awards/for-us-citizens> and talk with Ms. Odell in Career Services.

The Institute of International Education (IIE) is partnering with the Korean Ministry of Education, Science & Technology to publicize and recruit for the "Teach and Learn in Korea" (TaLK) program. A study abroad opportunity open to undergraduate students and recent college graduates, the program entails teaching conversational English in rural Korean elementary schools. The program provides a 1-month orientation in addition to round-trip airfare, a settling-in allowance, monthly living stipend of approximately $1,300, health insurance and organized trips to historical Korean locations. Deadline for applications is June for the term beginning in August 2011 and by December for the term beginning in February 2012. For more information visit: <http://www.talk.go.kr/> or email: talkkoreapr@gmail.com

Irish School of Ecumenics, Trinity College, Dublin is offering a new Semester Abroad programme for visiting undergraduates in Belfast, Northern Ireland. The programme offered from January-April 2012 will be of particular interest to those seeking an international experience and wishing to broaden their awareness and analysis of conflict, peace and reconciliation as critical challenges facing societies around the world. For more information visit: www.tcd.ie/ise/semesterabroad or email Barbara Hart at hartb@tcd.ie

Teach Abroad, The Language House is a 4-week TEFL teacher training course in Prague. For more information visit: www.thelanguagehouse.net

Congratulations Seniors!!

The Class of 2011 is ready to graduate and move on to the next chapter in their collective lives. Congratulations to all of the seniors. In addition to the students we recognized last month, here are some of the opportunities seniors are pursuing:

Joshua Barr – US Army.

Caitlin Fennerty, Caitlin Johnson, Skylar Ritchie – teaching at Great Hearts Academies in Arizona.

Elizabeth Osborn – Ariel internship with High Desert Naturopathic Clinic in Santa Fe.

James Vonder Haar – summer internship with Coonridge Farm in New Mexico, beginning law school at UT-Austin this fall.

Robert Conti, Amariah Fuller – teaching English with the JET program in Japan.

Adam Visser – pursuing a Master's in Community Health at Montana State University, followed by medical school.

Aaron Blumenstein – Ariel internship in micro brewing at Sixpoint Craft Ales in Brooklyn, NY.

William Poris – working for US Art Show Productions out of Santa Fe but doing event installations in the Hamptons, Florida, San Francisco.

Pia Carey, Ian Ruskey – clerking for law firms in Santa Fe.

Sarah Bell – summer camp work, followed by a job in the fall in Santa Fe with Community Options (non-profit providing services to people with disabilities).

Han Qi – Ariel internship with Plants of the Southwest in Santa Fe.

Derek Duplessie – summer fellow with the Herzog Political Science program in Washington, DC, followed by the start of a PhD program in Political Philosophy at Tulane University.

Prakash Pathak – Ariel internship for policy research at the National Academies in Washington, DC.

Sam Stewart – starting art installation business with artist Andy Goldsworthy and other friends; temporary art structures possible along national park trails in Georgia and North Carolina.

Evan Koziarachi – Institute for Humane Studies (HIS) internship with the Tomes News, a daily paper in Burlington, NC.

Michael Fausnaugh – Ariel internship in gamma ray research at the Adler Planetarium in Chicago, IL.

Brittany Olson – getting married, followed by a 6-week humanitarian mission to Cambodia.

Lorn Davis – admitted to MBA program at Harvard, to be deferred for two years as he gains practical business experience.

Richard Blackmore – accepted to one-year MPhil program in philosophy at University College, London.

Colin Colby – finance internship with Merrill Lynch in Santa Fe.

Cyril Cook – post-bac pre-med classes at Kansas University, along with possible CAN certification.

Jasper Jackson-Gleich – working at Camp Winnarainbow, a performance arts camp, in Mendocino, CA.

Joel LeCuyer – working at Collected Works bookstore in Santa Fe.

Jillian Higgins – Selling/marketing her own art.

Rebecca Pryor – camp counselor in Teen Adventure Bike program for Quaker summer camp in Virginia.

Ty Schintzius – teaching and graduate school with Mississippi Teachers Corp.

Max Walukas – working for the Alumni Relations office at the college while studying for and taking graduate school entrance exams.

Sally Western – working at a Buddhist retreat center.

Ari Winnick – starting the Eastern Classics program in Santa Fe in August.

Alexander Wood – will continue developing his own IT company.